

More customers. Less routine.

We help you find relevant companies, make sense of data and simplify everyday work.

Fevralov Strategy Systems

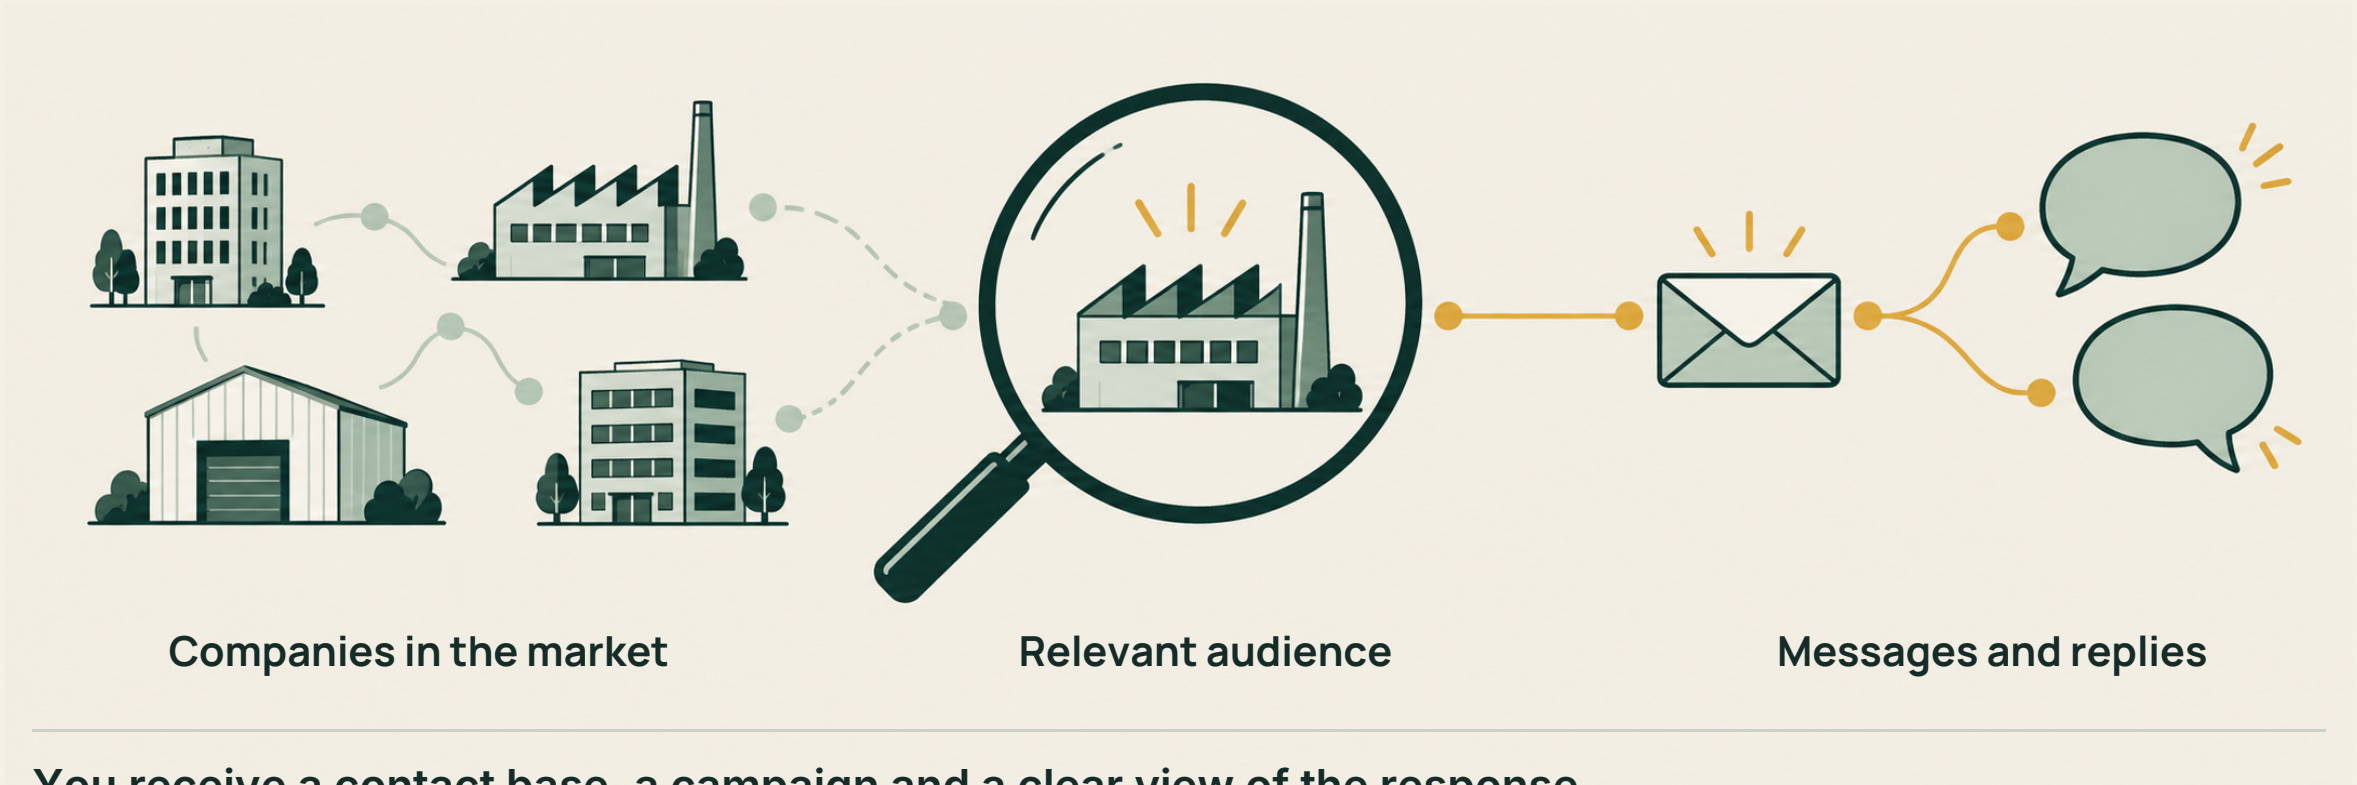

What would help your business?

We can start with one task and expand the work when it makes sense.

B2B customer outreach

We identify relevant companies and start conversations about your offer.

You receive a contact base, a campaign and a clear view of the response.

We hand interested conversations to your team for negotiation and closing.

Research and data analysis

We help you assess markets, compare offers or understand your own business data.

You receive a structured dataset or an analysis with sources and conclusions.

Contact research and analysis are also available as separate services.

Opportunities in your company history

We connect correspondence, documents and past enquiries to recover their context.

You receive a clear account of the history and possible next steps.

Sometimes "let's revisit this" just needs someone to revisit it.

AI and process automation

We simplify recurring tasks involving documents, data and incoming requests.

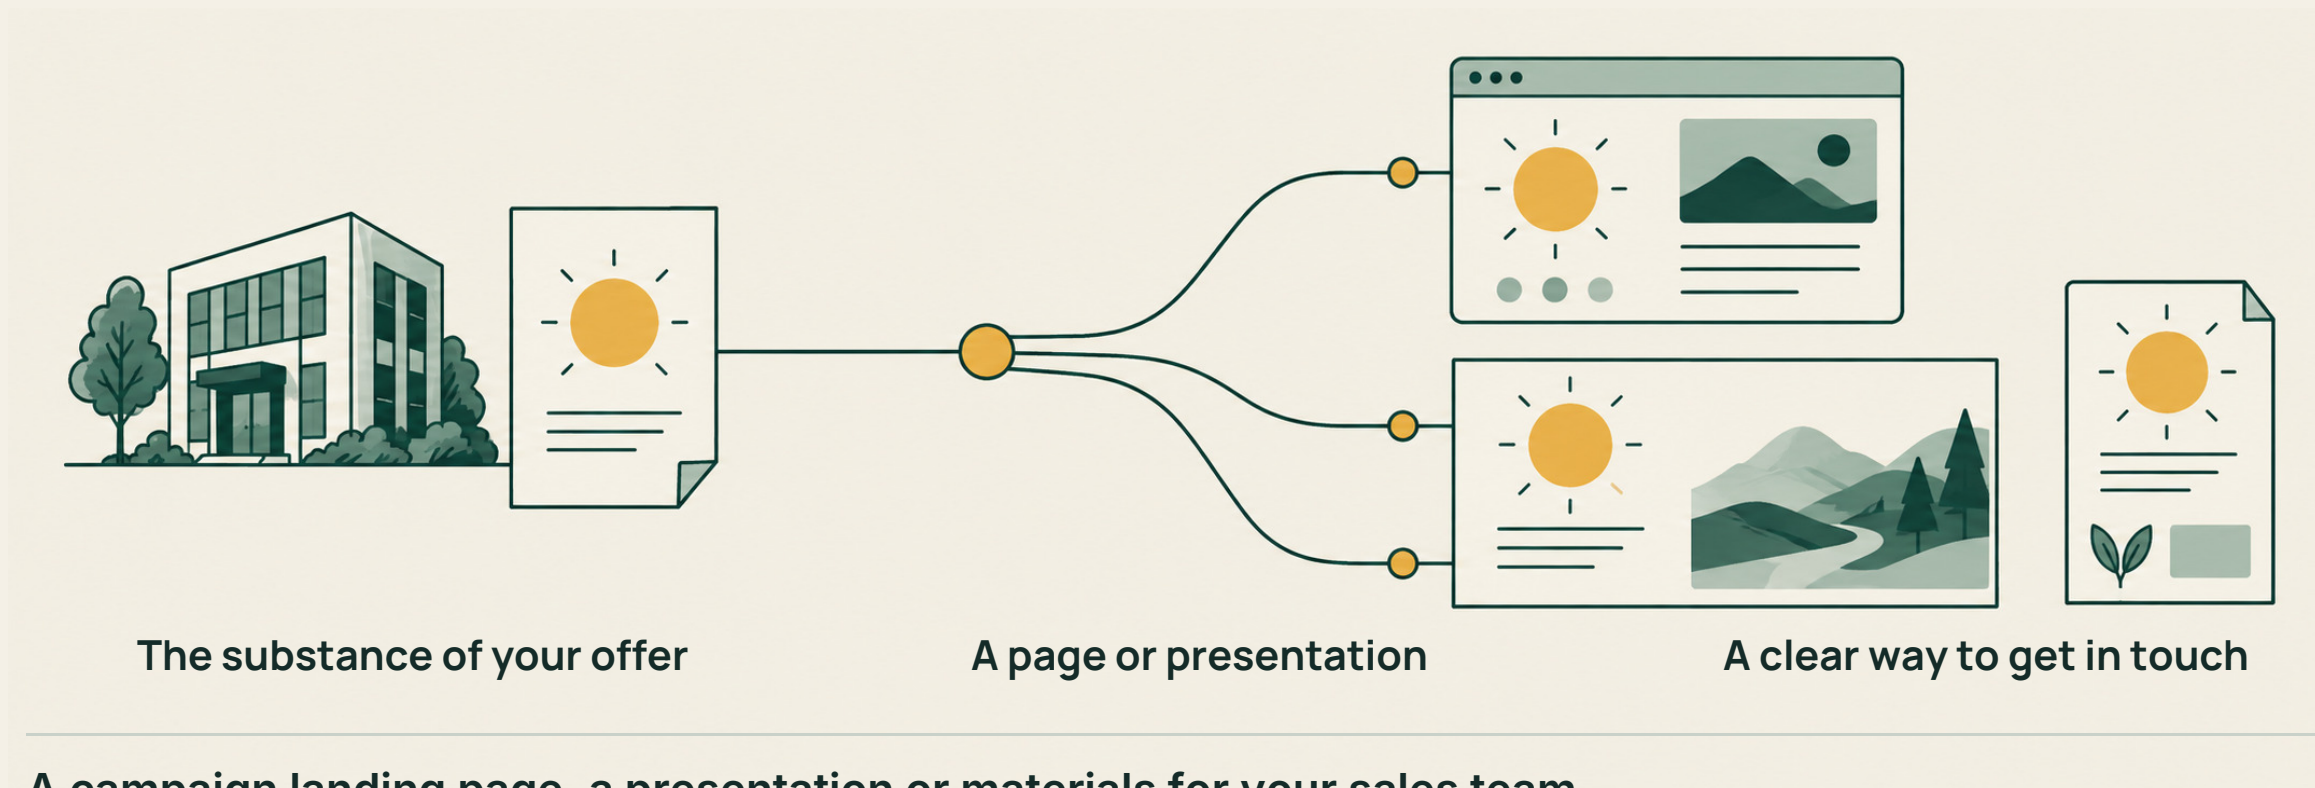

We start with one workflow, test it in use and hand it over to your team.

A process usually has a flowchart and someone who knows how it really works. We need both.

Materials that explain your offer

We make your service easier to understand and the next step easier to take.

A campaign landing page, a presentation or materials for your sales team.

The content, design and contact path tell one coherent story.

Examples of our work

A way of working that fits your task

Let FSS handle the work

We agree on the outcome, scope and terms, then carry out the work and hand over the materials.

Train your own team

We teach your team to prepare and run B2B outreach independently, with an agreed support period.

FSS ONE

Our own B2B outreach system: contacts, messages, replies and reports.

Currently in beta testing. Sales are not open yet.

Where shall we start?

Reply to the email: what matters most for your business right now?

- New customers
- Clearer data
- Less manual work

Describe the situation in your own words. We will discuss scope, timing and price directly.
